New Handwriting Clinic

Call Tanya to Schedule

UCP Handwriting Team can help children reach their full potential with handwriting. The practice of writing by hand is more than just a way to communicate. The practice helps with learning letters and shapes, and can improve idea composition and expression. Many underlying components go into handwriting including visual perception skills, visual motor skills, fine motor skills and attention to task to name a few. These components will be assessed along with your child's handwriting by an occupational therapist to determine your child's needs. If help is needed, families can have options to be seen individually or in a group with children with similar challenges

Attendance Policy Reminder

If you must cancel an appointment, please contact our cancellation line at least 24 hours prior to the appointment. This allows the therapist to prepare for an opening in their schedule, and possibly see another child in that time slot.

If your child is sick, notify UCP as soon as possible. Keeping sick children at home is considered an
